

Free Financial Education Seminars

for all County and Court Employees

Sponsored by the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors and the Santa Clara County Federal Credit Union

Presented by BALANCE Financial Fitness Program

Your financial fitness is an important part of well being. As referenced by Board President Liz Kniss in the State of the County Address, we want to do what we can to assist you and your family in achieving your financial goals.

A series of six free financial education seminars are being offered in conjunction with the Santa Clara County Federal Credit Union to Santa Clara County employees. The first of the series is "The Basics of Personal Finance."

Watch for additional information about future seminars by checking "Quick Links" on the County Website:

#906 The Basics of Personal Finance

Personal finance covers a wide range of topics-from managing daily expenses to investing for retirement. It's not necessary to be an expert in all these areas to achieve financial fitness. Practicing the basics of smart money management is all it takes for most people to reach their goals. This workshop is designed to help set those goals and reach them through building a solid financial foundation.

When: Tuesday, November 3, 2009
What Time: 4:00 p.m. - 5:30 p.m.
Where: Isaac Newton Senter Auditorium
70 W. Hedding Street

Time away from your job to attend this seminar should be considered the same as attending a CountyWise class.
