

LET YOUR VOICE BE HEARD

HELP SANTA CLARA COUNTY PROTECT AND EMPOWER WOMEN AND WORKING MOTHERS

Prior to the February 12, 2019 Board of Supervisors meeting, please send letters to the five Supervisors in support of the Office of Labor Standards Enforcement (OLSE) request to:

- Expand their scope of enforcement to include judgments relative to sexual assault, sexual harassment, retaliation and human and labor trafficking.
- Expand their budget for their outreach and education program by $500,000, totaling $1,000,000.

If the Board passes these measures, the County will DOUBLE its impact and the following will be accomplished:

- In one year of implementation, the OLSE and partners will
 - Reach 1,315 Retail Food Businesses and 5,000 Retail Food Workers and Vulnerable Workers;
 - Provide Workers' Rights Training in all five Supervisorial Districts in five languages (English, Spanish, Vietnamese, Tagalog, and Chinese);
 - Inform vulnerable workers about their rights relative to:
 - Wage and Hour Law
 - Immigrant Workers' Rights
 - LGBTQ+ Workplace Protections
 - Retaliation
 - Sexual Harassment and Assault
 - Human and Labor Trafficking
 - Resources and Referral mechanisms
 - Launch a multilingual telephone advice line for businesses and workers seeking information about their rights and responsibilities.

Your opinion matters! Let your voice be heard!

BY FEBRUARY 11 send your letters of support to:

joe.simitian@bos.sccgov.org
mike.wasserman@bos.sccgov.org
dave.cortese@bos.sccgov.org
susan.ellenberg@bos.sccgov.org
cindy.chavez@bos.sccgov.org
bosagenda@cob.sccgov.org