Human Trafficking is Modern-Day Slavery

Human trafficking is a modern-day form of slavery that is widespread and occurs in the United States, California, and right here in the Bay Area. It is one of the largest criminal industries in the world and the fastest growing. Many victims of trafficking are forced to engage in prostitution, pornography, or exotic dancing. But trafficking also occurs in forms of labor exploitation, such as domestic servitude, restaurant work, sweatshop factory work, or migrant agricultural work. Traffickers do not discriminate; they target the young and old, men and women, and people from all backgrounds.

Force, fraud and coercion are the means by which traffickers abuse their victims for the purpose of involuntary servitude, slavery, or debt bondage.

- Force: Rape, beatings, confinement
- Fraud: Promises of a good job and home, love and companionship, or a better life
- Coercion: Threats to a person or a family, isolation, psychological abuse, debt bondage; taking passport or ID, depriving person of food or basic necessities

Victims of trafficking can be found in:
- Commercial sex
- Domestic situations (nannies or servants)
- Factories
- Construction
- Panhandling
- Farming or landscaping
- Hotel or tourist industries
- Janitorial services
- Restaurant services

Myths vs. Reality

MYTH: Human trafficking involves movement from one country to another.

REALITY: Human trafficking need not involve movement.

MYTH: Human Trafficking involves young women.

REALITY: 80% of trafficking victims are female and 50% are children, but men and women of all ages are trafficked.

MYTH: Traffickers are members of criminal organizations

REALITY: Traffickers may be part of large criminal organizations, gangs, or drug cartels; human trafficking is the second leading criminal enterprise, second only to the drug trade.

Other traffickers are small business owners and individuals. Some trafficking is done by family members of the victims.

MYTH: Trafficking survivors are not U.S. citizens.

REALITY: 80% of human trafficking survivors in the United States are U.S. citizens. Most human trafficking in the U.S. occurs in New York, California, and Florida.

MYTH: Human trafficking is not taking place in my neighborhood.

REALITY: It can and often does. It is hidden in plain sight in our neighborhoods.
