NOTICE

YOU ARE ENTERING A CATTLE GRAZING AREA

Cattle may become defensive if they feel threatened. Although rare, cattle have charged park visitors.

Please be cautious around cattle:

- Don’t touch or pet cattle. Leave stray calves alone. Don’t get between a calf and cow.
- Dogs are perceived as predators. Keep your dog on a leash and under control at all times.
- Don’t startle cattle. Keep your distance and walk around herds rather than through them; give cattle plenty of space and a clear route of escape.
- If cattle are on the trail ahead of you, wave your arms and shout well in advance.

If you encounter a cow, calf or bull that is acting in a threatening manner or appears to be injured, sick or dead, please note the location, the color of the animal, the ear tag number and report it to the park staff. Aggressive cows will be removed from the area.

EMERGENCIES CALL 911, for non-emergencies call Park office #

Thank you for your cooperation.
