How To Get There

Rancho San Antonio County Park and Open Space Preserve is located in the foothills below the Skyline ridge in close proximity to Highway 280 and the cities of Los Altos, Los Altos Hills, and Cupertino. From Highway 280, north or south, take the Foothill Boulevard exit, proceed south, and turn right almost immediately onto Cristo Rey Drive. Continue for about 1 mile, veer right around the traffic circle, and turn left into the County Park entrance. There are several parking lots, including one designated for equestrian trailers. The trailhead for the Preserve is located adjacent to the 85-car parking area in the northwest lot. (Note: On weekends, arrive early to find parking.)
